

Handicap Computation Application Form 2020

GHIN & The NJSGA

The All-Fore Club facilities use the GHIN system for Handicap Computation. You may be familiar with the GHIN system. It is widely available at many Golf Clubs throughout the United States and now throughout the world. The USGA and GHIN are now part of the World Handicap System.

Posting scores via the GHIN system is quick and easy. If you are new to GHIN, you will be assigned a GHIN number when we activate your account. Otherwise you will retain your existing account number and it will become active for the 2020 golf season within 48 hours after submission of this form.

Your GHIN number can be used at other clubs utilizing the GHIN system. And you will be able to post your scores wherever you find a GHIN compliant facility. To post your score via the internet, visit one of our web sites. In the Quick Links section, there is a link named GHIN Lookup. Follow that link. You will need to have your GHIN number. Once you sign in, then you can review or post your scores.

If you need assistance in posting your scores, the Golf Shop staff will assist you. However, we believe that you will have little problem using this system.

Handicap Computation Services

Golfer posts his or her scores using the GHIN Handicap Posting Software available at the Club or via the internet. Handicap Administrator and/or Golf Shop staff are available to answer questions and assist. Revisions are performed per posted schedule. New in 2020, the NJSGA is no longer supporting labels and is recommending the use of the GHIN Mobile App which is available for your cellular phone or tablet (iPhone, Android-based, etc.).
